Spain rips Greece, rules World Championship

SALAMANCA, JAPAN—WITH BLINDING FIAS COES, cheating on his teammates from the bench, Spain's Greece 13-41 Sunday to claim its first gold medal in World Championship history. The 2.73-meter (9-foot) Spaniard from the 1990s is looking and rebounding throughout the tournament. When he broke his left with about a month left in the 76-74 semifinal win over Argentina, his team's gold-medal hopes dimmed considerably.

9/11 kin illegally in US uneasy over riches

NEW YORK—ONE WIDOW HAS more than $2 million bar with a ride, but her ex-husband, now-faded disarming attention.

Another millionaire widow stopped going to 9/11 support groups because she feared that the families of police officers and firefighters might leave her. A widow has enough money to start a business building houses, but cannot buy himself a house.

All three people lost a husband or a wife when the World Trade Center collapsed. Like thousands of others, they were beneficiaries of the federal $66.11 Victim Compensation Fund, which awarded millions of dollars to families whose loved ones died in the attacks.

But a secret sets these three people apart: Like their spouses who died, each is in the country illegally.

Few thought the government compensated them richly for their losses, making them wealthy let them they were damaged, the money did not change their immigration status. They lost they could be deported any day.

Five years after the terrorist attacks, these three people are living with extraordinary contradictions.

Long accustomed to making dollar bills in coffee shops, they became millionaires overnight. But because they do not have valid work permits or work visas, they cannot get mortgages or driver's licenses.

They say they have spent little of the money, afraid of attracting notice.

Their spouses were hatched abroad, their status remained on plane's single document.

Security officials go after terror expert

Footage shown to 50 in antiterror seminar

By Arlyn dela Cruz

THE MYSTERY MAN WHO SAID HE WAS ABLE to struggle both components onto a domestic airliner is now the target of an intense investigation aimed at ferreting him out and finding out who was behind it all.

When he broadcast the security footage at two premier domestic airports in the country, the civilian antiterrorism expert knew he was testing the limits and taking great risks because he could get caught and end up in jail for possessing explosive components he knew very well were illegal.

Knowing the delicate nature of the operation, the man made it clear he did not want his name in that of the person who asked him to do the broadcast.

He referred to the man as the "boss."

He said the "boss" was concerned about the adequacy of security measures at airports and wanted to know if the system really worked.

The "boss" also wanted to know about the expertise, because when it comes to doing it, everybody is prepared," said the security expert.

In a restaurant in Quezon City, the expert used a laptop to play

Airline officials yesterday refused to name the antiterrorism expert who said he had smuggled in smuggling bomb components onto two domestic flights, pending completion of their investigation into the incident that had prompted an upgrade of security measures to prevent terrorist attacks on the country's airports.

Video shows hole in bow of oil tanker

By Leticia B. Salaverria

VIDEO TAKEN BY JAPANESE experts shows a hole in the bow of the MT Solar 1 that indicates it may have struck a container ship that left off a cargo vessel in early waters, raising the tanker in sink and bunker had off to spill into the sea, the Japanese learned yesterday.

The port captain (divided) is in a room because he represented one of the parties involved in the investigation. The identity of the vessel that one of the 30 tanks showed the 11-hour vessel—was completely empty.

Another tank—designated as No. 2—was leaking very slowly about a line drops every few seconds from the hatch, according to the testimony reported to the Japanese by a port captain.

The expert who testified also was withheld, citing the need to protect the integrity of his final report. The Japanese had requested the port captain.

The footage taken by the remote-operated vessel (ROV) was shown by experts from the Japanese research vessel, MT Shonan Maru, last week also showed a steady, constant stream of oil leaking out like a thread from the ventilation pipe. The vent has a valve, but there was a possibility that the ROV's manipulator arm might have it off if it tries to close it and if the tanker is not done properly. The arm also could not get the vent.

The 10 tanks inside the Solar 1 contained a total of 2 million liters of bunker fuel when it went down on May 11 in rough seas off Genoa, Italy. Among the worst of April in the nation's history and polluting a 230-km coastline, fertile fishing grounds.

JACINTO: Doctor-came-nurse said to start from the Big Apple.

No greener pasture for topnotcher

By Gerry Lirio

THE GRASS BETTER THE Philippines is not always green. So Elmer Jacinto, the topnotcher in the 2004 medical board exams who decided to leave for the United States and work as a nurse instead, has realized.

A 30-year-old native of Lungsod, Basilan, who graduated magna cum laude from the Our Lady of Fatima University's College of Medicine in Wabunan City, Jacinto flew to New York after taking his oath two years ago. Jacinto, who finished his pre-med course of nursing at the Western Michigan State University, said he had a job that should have been his. He said he was not sure when his placement firm, Southern Recruitment Agency had promised him.

Now, he and 27 other Filipino nurses recruited by Southern are locked in a legal battle in New York. Like Jacinto, most of the

Proclamation No. 1017: Policy matrix of slaughter

By Armando Dorado

DURING THE PAST 18 MONTHS, the Arroyo administration has launched a crash program consisting of:

- Cracking the economic emergency in two years.
- Killing of the second impeachment complaint against President Macapagal-Arroyo within "no working session days" of the House of Representatives.
- Filing at least 30 cases in 30 weeks against those responsible for the systematic killings of leftists and journalists.
- Transforming the country into a free-market economy in the next three years.

deadline. With this agenda, the administration looks like a house on fire, or, in another metaphor, a buffer tank.

This is neither the first Arroyo administration nor the first 180 days. At least 100 launches of policies that could have set the national agenda taking off have been squandered and blocked.

Macapagal-Arroyo is now in the midst of her second administration, and the nation stands upon a precipice. The regime is stuck in a legitimacy conflict that has paralyzed all but the most important capacity to move the nation forward.

Thus, there has been economic growth (struggling to stay afloat)

Proclamation 1017: Policy matrix of slaughter

By Joseph A. Dela Cruz
 The president and nearly a hundred senators are expected to arrive at the new Asian Institute of Technology in Thailand on September 4.

The administration is trying to justify its move by saying that it is a last-minute effort to complete the 10th anniversary of the 1988 presidential election, as recorded in the "Tito's Case" report.

It is a move to ensure that the 10th anniversary of the 1988 presidential election is not forgotten and that the 10th anniversary of the 1988 presidential election is not forgotten.

Holcim embarks on P1-B rehab of Davao line

Investments to be infused despite soft demand

IN THE PHILIPPINES, HOLCIM is set up to P1-billion over the next 12 months to bring its cement manufacturing facility in Cebu City back to full operating capacity by mid-2012.

The planned investment comes after the facility's main production line was damaged by the collapse of a storage silo earlier this year.

"The P1-billion investment is expected to bring cement production in the economic growth of Davao and the rest of Mindanao," Holcim Philippines chief operating officer Neil Calalang said last week.

Officials of the two-week-old cement firm noted that the investment was being made despite the prevailing uncertainty

Over the past seven years, demand has declined steadily except in 2003.

For this year, the company is still expecting slow growth to demand despite recent government announcements that it would invest in the cement industry through a more aggressive level of infrastructure spending.

Holcim Philippines added, however, that it would continue to pursue programs "aimed at making its plants operate efficiently and according to world-class environmental standards."

"An occupation of an industrial zone in the area," the company has shifted focus to providing infrastructure, it added.

Indian firm seeks site for high-capacity cable project's landing station

THE INDIAN CABLE GROUP, a subsidiary of the Indian Cable Group Ltd. (ICGL), is considering the Philippines as a potential site for a landing station of a $100-million high-capacity submarine cable system, according to statements posted on the company's website.

The cable system will link Hong Kong, Singapore and Japan.

ICGL is part of India's Tata Group and is a leading international telecommunications company. It is also a subsidiary of the Indian Cable Group Ltd. (ICGL), a subsidiary of the world's largest provider of submarine cable landings.

The India-based company said in its website that it is interested in the Philippines as a potential site for a landing station of the $100-million high-capacity submarine cable system, according to statements posted on the company's website.

World of Warcraft is online game to beat, says research firm

By Alexander Williams

WITH MORE THAN 2 MILLION subscribers from the North American and European markets and another 5 million subscribers from the Chinese market alone, it would be difficult for any massively multiplayer online game (MMOG) to beat the record set by Blizzard's World of Warcraft (WoW).

Video game research group IDC Intelligence said in a recent report that while MMOGs are proliferating in many countries, especially in Asia, WoW was able to secure more than 12 million players worldwide, more than any other MMOG.

That figure also affirmed that the game developer's reputation for creating quality games was an important factor in WoW's success, as Blizzard was the same company that brought the Diablo series, Warcraft series and Starcraft, the last now being played in part of international game competitions such as the annual World Cyber Games.

The company said that even until second place in its worldwide subscriber list went to WoW, which keeps subscribers interested in playing. It also pointed out the difficulty of replicating Blizzard's Battle.Net online service that has experienced tremendous user growth and ever-increasing complicated operations.

IDC Intelligence also said that play of Warcraft games also had positive impact on WoW since many of their previous titles, especially Warcraft III and Starcraft, were among the most played games in Asia, increasing brand recognition.

Nonetheless, IDC Intelligence noted that most success stories in the MMOG space came from targeting under markets while WoW has targeted a worldwide appeal. Game developers and distributors should look at moving into more flexible and profitable market segments of the online gaming industry. If an MMOG becomes successful and starts to produce "dead money" then it would be time to expand into the original video market.

A previous IDC Intelligence study showed that the worldwide MMOG industry would grow to $1.5 billion by 2011, up from $1.4 billion in 2005. This would be driven by increasing home broadband connections, higher PC usage and use of next next-generation game consoles.

However, experts would also come from advertising, whereas companies do game advertising.

Although he said surveying for one time would take some time, it would still provide a better picture of how government would respond to specific needs of different regions.

The NCR confirmed that there has not been a comprehensive data collection on ICT use in the Philippines, in order to solve this, the NCR forwarded proposals to include several ICT-related items for the board's quarterly agenda on ICT in education and commercial establishments.

Likewise, the NCR would be including ICT data on the Philippine Statistical Data system (2005-2010) to get more comprehensive data on ICT usage.

"We need to know what the numbers are when it comes to ICT use because that will give the government's approach in solving the digital divide," Tiu said.

approximately 60% and 75.4 percent were in-campus students while 50.1 percent learned through UPOG.

The UP DRA study also pointed out that the disaster learning group had more rural students at 7% percent, compared to just 26.4 percent among nonrural students. This showed that rural students opted to take distance education to also spend time with their families.

Likewise, the study also showed that 26.1 percent of UPOG students taking up MBA and MPH were from regions outside Metro Manila while UP Manila registered 48.1 percent of students coming from other regions.

UPOG students are required to have face-to-face interaction with their professors and advisors once a month.

UPOG is looking to develop an online learning module for both MPH and MBA. The use of UPOG's internet site allows this on-line distance learning mode.

ANNEKE KROON, LITHA VELAMITI and Cucko Magay speak as artists of their art from the Philippines and Indonesia respectively.

'We of the Philippines and Indonesia' is running at the Gallery, 1011 House, 1 Old Parliament Lane, Singapore.

Indonesian artists on exhibit on Arafat Ave. in Aspen, include, from left, R. Mochlis Waseki. A series of 25 works from Philippine artists and 20 works from Indonesian artists will be on display. The artists have had works exhibited off by Sotheby's and Christie's as well as by prominent Indonesian auction houses such as Lonsdale and Boscawen.

Escaló was born in Guatemala, Spain, in 1929, and moved to Manila five years later. He studied at the UP School of Fine Arts and the University of Ramon Vinas. In Europe, he pursued further studies at the E. N. de la Haza Superior Beauty School. Escaló has been traveling extensively and has had many available in Italy, the United States, England, Mexico and Spain.

Polius tenebrosus occurs in small-bodied creatures to slightly over half of diameter. The shiny eyes and sharp features add bold details to these yellowish tones and muscular frames. The waxes and cuticles evoke the bodacious women of old puns.

Magnum is the least Polyzou enter whose work has been selected by Interiors for auction. He brings to about six inches many of the elements and skills he learned in studios such as direct and indirect lighting, the economy of light as backdrop, contrast, composition, balance and color.

Guest of honor in the opening was Philippine Ambassador to Singapore Edwin A. Falauskis.

"Business is up but our phone bills aren't. It's a good thing Mark made us switch to Sun. We save P50,000 every month! My only challenge now is to stay under par."

Life: Collins with son, Matt Collins
President/CEO, Eagle Partners Group
Chairman, 457AM Foundation of Forensic Associations

I was so happy when my son joined the Eagle Express Group. Since then, we've become a 1-2 punch. I use my years of experience in the freight forwarding business and he brings in new ideas. Especially when he switched our communications system over to Sure, which has improved our efficiency. We were so pleased with the service that now our offices in Denver

Zamboanga, Cebu, Ceylon, Laguna and Pampanga use a system that converts all our trucks through Sun.

Business is better than ever. Operations are a breeze, no headaches. That leaves us more time to see who's the better coffee.

Every year, Sun spends more than $10 billion to increase coverage and capacity, getting back to allow more calls and faster service around.

Amusing

At the children's show, kids can sit at the time and, running around, I could pay full attention. But I was enough to be amused by it. I saw the whole thing for the first time when I was already dating.

It was amusing
because I enjoyed seeing the children and I thought they were funny. I saw the whole thing for the first time when I was already dating.

"HISTORIC BATTLE OF THE ICE WITH A LOT OF ACTION"

TO SEE IS TO BELIEVE! THE MOST TALKED-ABOUT MOVIE OF THE YEAR!

"This is an event. It is a rare example of a film not just being up to the hype, but surpassing it. And it is the best time you will have at the movies all summer, if not all year!"

—Chris Lewis, AP (Associated Press)
